Liberalism is all about means and not ends. It is constantly scared of violating abstract moral principles and becomes impotent to fight evil as a result. In a sane society, people who killed pedophiles as vigilante justice would be hailed as heroes taking out society's garbage. Not so in the Netherlands. The Dutch police have asked the public to stop pedo-hunting, because it is taking up their resources. Apparently, they need to get back to investigating transphobia online. Hundreds of incidents of bored teenagers luring online predators to meet IRL and then turning them into the police. The Dutch police have said this rise in vigilantism is due to Covid restrictions and QAnon. Yes, apparently pedophilia is a conspiracy theory; it's probably also antisemitic.

When people are no longer endlessly trying to keep up with the fast-pasted nature of modern society; when they are confronted with boredom, they start wanting to take out the garbage. The received wisdom is that most child rape is done by family members, not strangers in online chat rooms. But that's not the point. If you lure a predator out of their home into the real world, that puts them in a position of being able to get caught. If they're just raping their nephew, who's going to know? If you attempt to meet someone from the internet, they can get caught. Now I'm not giving legal advice on how to spend your time during the pandemic, but I hear garbage men are needed still.
